THE ELECTORAL COUNT.

Argument of Evarts for the Republicans and O'Conor for the Democrats.

WASHINGTON, February 5th.—Judge Clifford called the Electoral Commission to order soon after 11 o'clock this morning. The journal being read, Mr. Evarts began his argument on the powers of the Commission.

Evarts' Argument.

He said it was suggested that certain packages of papers brought by a messenger into the presence of the Commission were before it as evidence. What those papers contained was unknown to council on his side, and unknown to the Commission. The claim that they were before the Commission was based on the fact that they were mentioned in one of the objections. The objections were not pleading, but simply the act upon which the reference arises. If volunteer objectors on one side or the other could make up packages, the act would be singular and not in accordance with law. As to whether evidence before either of the Houses is transmissible, and may be laid before the Commission, is a question subordinate to that whether any could be received. He reviewed the proposition submitted by O'Conor on Saturday. The extraneous evidence proposed was not to show that the certificate of Governor Stearns was falsified, but to go into the record, and to say that somewhere between the deposit of the ballots in the ballot-box and the county canvass, or between the county and State canvass, there has been a mistake or fraud; that somewhere in the process of the election, from stage to stage, there had been matter for judicial inquiry. If justice tolerated it, or the powers of the Commission allowed it, it would carry the inquiry into all that related to the election. That the certificate was in accordance with the act of 1792 was not questioned, nor was it proposed on the other side to show that facts as certified did not exist by any extraneous evidence. It was further proposed to introduce evidence to show that Humphreys was a United States officer. This was a matter of surprise, for it was a matter of discussion at a meeting of the Canvassing board of Florida, and he read the testimony of Humphreys that he had resigned ten days before the election. His resignation had been accepted and the duties of the office discharged by the Collector of the port of Pensacola. Here was a question whether the two houses at the time of counting the vote had any power under the law for the intervention of proofs. His proposition was, that at that stage the two Houses could not entertain the subject of proof, and that the process must go on, when all the grades had been passed, from the people through the State authorities, unchallenged and unimpeachable. In reply to the question by Mr. Thurman, whether if it should appear that the four electors were members of Congress, the votes could not be counted, he said there was no safe way except to say that the injunction laid upon the States did not execute itself, and if the States did not execute it, Congress must by law provide for its execution, and that law did not now exist. This tribunal cannot receive evidence in addition to certificates of the nature of that which is offered; that is, evidence that goes behind the State's record of its election, which has been certified by the Governor as the result. In the appointment of this proposition, and on which sufficiently it rests, there is a judicial inquiry into this very matter of right and title to the office. It accepts as its function the prevalence of the former, the certificates, the recorded title of Electors, and proposes then to inquire as interpreters as to the matter of right, which of the two competitors are really elected. On an honest and searching investigation it undertakes an office that is judicial, and powers for its exercise are attempted to be invoked in favor of those who support the view of the necessity of the exercise of the imputed power and required adequate means. What are adequate means? Adequate means for that investigation, in that nature of right and inquiry, are plenary means: there are no means judicial that are adequate for that inquiry that are not plenary; and no plenary judicial powers can be communicated under our Constitution by Congress, to say nothing of minor powers that are judicial in their nature, except to tribunals that are Court tribunals, that are inferior to the Supreme Court, and that are filled by judges appointed by the President of the United States and confirmed by the Senate. Will any lawyer, expert or inexpert, mention a topic or method of jurisprudence that involves the possession of larger means of reach and a more complete control of the powers and methods than the trial of quo warranto for an office; that is, to search an election? But not only is it beyond the power of Congress to transfer the powers of this law to this Commission, the powers of a Court of this plenary reach and efficacy; but on top of quo warranto to try the title of an officer would be a subject in regard to which the Constitution had interposed an insurmountable barrier to the constitution of a Court like this. The quo warranto is an action and a matter of common law. It involves as a matter of right the introduction of a jury into its methods. No case of contested election was ever tried under the sense of a status of a proper tribunal without a jury; but the provision is, that in every action of a certain amount of dignity the right of trial by jury shall exist, and the verdict shall never be examined except by rules of common law. Now, can it be said that judicial power here, and judicial power originated under Congressional authority to make Courts, is a source of this authority? It is claimed these are impediments that cannot be surmounted. I find in the Act of '77 no such purpose in the arraignment with the powers to make this Court. Under the Constitution I find no appointment of the Judges to the Court. Under the powers of the Constitution I find no means for writs and their enforcement, nor for methods of trial that must belong to the discussion of a quo warranto. Now, I understand that the proponent of this proof lay out as the end and the limits of your inquiry, and of your duties and your powers, that of judicial investigation. Upon quo warranto, if you are made the superior Canvassing Board to determine whether Governor Stearns' certificate to the effect that the Electors were ever appointed is valid, and you are nothing but a Returning Board, to see whether the returns justify that certificate; that once you find that it does, that the de facto title and possession is complete, and that nothing but a jurisdiction that consists of a de facto title and possession and can begin to find the case for beginning the consideration of the question of right in this quo warranto suit, as it becomes the subject of evidence. It is matter of evidence that declared absolutely on the petition of the Tilden Electors that the Hayes Electors are in possession of that faculty the office or what not it may be, and are exercising it. They ask that inquiry may then proceed in due course of law, bringing them only by process of the 18th of December, long after the vote to inquire whether that possession and that exercise as a matter of right between them and the Hayes Electors is or is not according to law and truth. We have the Governor's certificate, and he is the very man that passed for the State on that question, which furnishes the right to meet and act; that this is the list of men that were appointed. These certificates form no part of the return to the President of the Senate, but when the same Governor executes under Federal law the same duty, under the same evidence, we have the certificate without the production of an antecedent one. Now what are we to gather in respect to the stage of this transaction, the deposit of the Federal vote for President by qualified Electors? It is their own vote. They are not delegates to make a vote according to the instructions of their State. They are not deputized to perform the will of anybody. They are voters, with the exercise of the free choice and authority to vote or refrain from voting, and from the moment their vote is sealed and sent forward toward the seat of Government no power in the State can touch it, arrest it, reverse it, corrupt it, retract it. Nothing is to be done except count it, and count it as it was deposited. These Electors at the present election, 369 citizens in number, are by the Constitution made for their qualifications dependent upon the action of the States. If a State does act, whatever is the be all and the end all of a State action upon the time that vote is cast, is the be all and the end all of the qualification of the elector. He is then a qualified elector depositing his vote to accomplish a purpose, and that vote is to be counted when the votes are collected. Now, it is an absolute novelty, unknown in States, unknown in the nation, that judicial inquiries can be interposed to stop political action that leads to the State. You do not step with judicial investigation into a ballot box upon the suggestion that it has been stuffed, and stop the election until that quo warranto is finished, and then when you get to the first canvasser stop this count from going on because it is a false count and have the Court decide, and he with the County Canvassers stop their transactions in the rapid progress to the result aimed at, to wit, the filling of the office with a quo warranto there and then in the State canvass.

The novelty of the situation produces strange results. Never before has there been a retardation of the political transactions of counting an election, and to accomplish that, almost miracles have been needed, for the sun and moon have been made to stand still much longer than they were for Joshua in his conflict in Judea. And you will find that the attempt to bring Judges—I do not speak of Judges in the official capacity that some portion of this bench occupy in the Supreme Court, but I mean Judges of the nature and working of this scheme of popular sovereignity in its political view, will defeat it by nature of that intervention, till the government of Judges will have superseded the soverignity of the people, and there will be no care, no escort but that which the children of Israel had to pray for, "A King."

Argument of O'Conor.

O'Conor followed Evarts, and said in reference to the question: What elements are within reach of this Commission? that counsel on the opposite side had an indirect conflict in the issue formed between us. This we maintain as representing what are called the Tilden Electors, that this tribunal has full authority to investigate by all judicial and legal means the very fact, and thereby to ascertain what was the vote of Florida. On the other hand, it is claimed that this learned Commission is restricted mearly to a determination of what may be a just inference from documents returned to the President of the Senate from Florida, mainly reposing themselves, however, on the proposition that they are in office de facto, without right, but only the color of it. The advocates of the Hayes Electors claim that inasmuch as these individuals cast their vote when possessed of the same document which gave to them the color of claim and of right to that office and to the performance of that duty, the fact that they acted on this color and did cast, of their own motion, of their own personal will, through their own right of selection, the votes which are sent here as the votes of Florida, completely precludes all inquiry, and that it is impossible for any earthly tribunal or any person to investigate into or determine the invalidity of their claim. This issue gives rise to the question: What are the powers of this Commission?

These powers are distinctly, and fully, and briefly expressed in that admirably, and briefly expressed in that admirably, and briefly expressed in that admirably

The Yolo Democrat,

With a Weekly Supplement.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF YOLO COUNTY.

WOODLAND, CAL:

Thursday, February 15, 1877.

GUM TREES.—The Central Pacific Railroad Company has purchased 40,000 Australian gum trees to be planted along the line of its road. Workmen are now engaged in planting them along the road in Alameda county.

THE DAMAGE.—From the Sonoma Democrat we learn that the house of State Printer Thompson, at Santa Rosa was damaged as follows by the fire: the roof of the house was destroyed and all of the upper story. The lower story was flooded with water. The damage from fire and water to the house and furniture cannot be much short of $2,500.

NEAR THE END.—The suspense will soon be over—probably before another issue of this paper. The case of Louisiana is before the Commission as we go to press. It will probably be decided to-morrow or next day at farthest. We predict that the vote of the State will either be counted for Tilden or thrown out altogether, either of which will elect him. Notwithstanding, we wait with anxiety.

CONDEMNING THEMSELVES.—In trying to cast odium upon the character of Littlefield and Maddox, who testified to the changing of the election returns in Louisiana and the proposition of the chief scoundrel Wells to sell out the State to the highest bidder, Republicans ought to remember that those men were both chosen officers of their own party pets in high position, and that when they are assailed the party itself (which is so pure) is also assailed.

CONCEDED.—A few days ago the San Francisco Bulletin said that if the Electoral Commission should decide that it had not the power to go behind the certificates, the result of such a ruling would be to elect Tilden. Wonder how the Bulletin stands since the Commis has made the aforesaid ruling? We have not seen it, but can safely conclude that it has taken the back track on the above conclusion and gone off upon some other shute in order to favor Hayes being finally counted in.

"FOUR VILLIANS."—On Tuesday last, Hon. Matt. Carpenter, Counsel for the Democratic side in opening the Louisiana case before the Electoral Commission, said that he did not appear for Samuel J. Tilden, but "for ten thousand voters of Louisiana who had been disfranchised by four villains whose official title is the Returning Board of Louisiana." Mr. Carpenter is opposed to Tilden and the Democratic party, politically, but says it would be a greater calamity to keep Tilden out of the Presidency by fraud and falsehood, than for the Democratic party to come into power.

DISHEARTENED.—Many Democrats having lost all confidence in the Electoral Commission, on account of its partisan decision in the Florida case, have come to the conclusion that all is lost and that there is no hope left for Tilden. We don't see it in that light. The case of Louisiana is as a mountain to a molehill beside that of Florida in the magnitude of the frauds committed at the last election, and we cannot, will not believe that men claiming to be respectable dare give the vote of that State to Hayes. They are acting for an intelligent people who know their rights and knowing dare maintain them.

THE BOOT ON THE OTHER LEG.—Some of the Republicans are boiling over with sympathy for their dear friend and political savior, J. Madison Wells, who, for contempt in refusing to testify before the Committee of Congress, is imprisoned in a room in the Capitol building at Washington. They have suddenly discovered that the room in which a Republican Congress has confined Democrats heretofore is unfit for their sainted martyr. While we would not favor the confinement even of one so thoroughly debased as this being in human form in improper quarters, yet unless they are shown by competent authority to be unfit for human habitation, what was sauce for the goose should also be good enough sauce for the gander. The boot is on the other leg now—that's all.——Since the above was written other apartments have been offered and refused.

NEW PATENTS.—Through Dewey & Co., Patent Agents, S. F., we receive the following list of U. S. Patents granted to Pacific Coast inventors, viz: Sylvester Charles, Healdsburg, Cal., quicksilver furnaces; Charles Elsasser, S. F., combined carpet beater and sweeper; Manuel Huerta, Dalles, Ogn., harness buckles; Byron Jackson, Woodland, Cal., portable derricks; Robert H. Lucas, S. F., ice machines; Elijah H. Perkins and Solomon D. Perkins, Visalia, cultivators; Wm. C. Stokes, Grass Valley, bottle protectors; Adam Rutherford, Walla Walla, W. T., horse collars, Lewis Woods Hamilton, Pendleton, Ogn., veterinary surgical instruments; Henry S. Craven, S. F., self-acting strips for mining buckets; Ethan A. Scott, S. F., coin wrappers; Jason Springer, S. F., method of sawing lumber; Samuel S. Vollum, S. F. car starters; George F. T. Wood, S. F., book clamps; Egbert Judson, S. F., (re-issue,) explosive compositions.

A Partisan Commission.

The Electoral Commission was created by Congress for the purpose of investigating the causes of disagreement as to Presidential Electors in several States of the Union, and bringing out the facts in each case under dispute so as to satisfy Congress and the country which of the candidates for President and Vice-President were entitled to the votes of the disputed States. In the case of Florida the Commission has refused to do this and also to avail itself of previously ascertained facts, and has by a strictly partisan vote, declared that the four votes of Florida should be counted for Hayes. At the very outset the Commission by a strict party vote—8 against 7—decided that they would not go behind the returns in their hands—in other words, that they would not investigate anything in dispute, but would count Florida's four votes for Hayes at all hazards. And this in the face of these facts: that the returns of the election showed a majority upon their face for Tilden; that ex-Governor Stearns declared the Democrats had carried the State, and that the Democratic Governor and members of the Legislature, voted for at the same time, are now in posession of their offices; that Governor Drew and the Legislature had insisted and the Supreme Court of the State, a Republican body, had decided upon a full investigation that Tilden had carried the State. Yet this Electoral Commission refuse to take any of these important matters into consideration. They refuse to examine the case at all so as to be able to decide upon its merits or upon the equity of the matter.

We confess that our faith in the Judiciary is very much shaken. We had looked for justice at the hands of those men—hoped and believed that men occupying the exalted position of Justices of the Supreme Court of the United States would hold themselves above partisanship, especially in a question of such vital importance to the stability, nay, to the very existence of our Government. And a large majority of the people of our beloved country are grieved that our highest Judges have so debased themselves. The people, the Democratic party particularly, as shown by the votes of Democratic Congressmen, believed that by having those high functionaries in the Commission, disputed points would be settled according to facts susceptible of proof, while without their aid an equal number of both political parties would find it very difficult to arrive at satisfactory conclusions. Democrats even conceded the fifteenth man without cavil, because they trusted in judicial honesty. The result thus far shows that their confidence was sadly misplaced, and the four votes of Florida have, in consequence of the unjust partisan action of the Commission, been counted for Hayes, notwithstanding the objections interposed in the Electoral College before they were so counted.

After the votes of Florida were counted, the other States in alphabetical order were passed upon without objection until Louisiana was reached. Over this State there will of course be a contest, but as it went so strongly for Tilden—some 10,000 majority of the popular vote—if counted for either candidate it will clearly have to go to Tilden. The principle ought to hold good that a single vote should decide in popular elections; but in Florida's case it seems a single hundred majority for Tilden did not prevent her being counted for Hays by these partisan arbiters. In Louisiana, however, a majority of ten thousand will not be so easily overcome, even if the Returning Board shall be considered a legal body and its foul and corrupt acts be approved by this great Commission, which certainly admits of doubt. Should the Commission attempt any such high-handed course of injustice in this case as in the former, there is no telling what will follow. That will be a question for future development. But we cannot think they will dare attempt it, simply because the Republicans have a majority of one. The people want justice, nothing more, and that they will have. And as a Democratic Congress holds the key to the situation, we believe it will see that justice is done at last, for the power created is not greater than the power which created it. Had the Commisson investigated the facts before rendering a decision, and found that those facts warranted the conclusion arrived at, then neither party could have found fault, and its decision would have been conclusive whether satisfactory or not. As it is, we opine the end is not yet. Our hope is still strong.

SHERMAN'S PART.—According to the New Orleans Democrat, the reading of Senator John Sherman's speeches gives the overwhelming conviction "that he was, while in New Orleans, the associate, abettor and confederate of the forgers, perjurers and conspirators who assembled daily in the Custom House to manufacture false affidavits, that he counselled with and advised them in their rascality, and that he is steeped in the crime against this State, and of which he has made himself the boldest and most shameless defender, as deeply as Wells and Anderson, and all the swarm of more insignificant villains, from Supervisor Clover to Eliza Pinkston." This is boldly and plainly stated, and is no doubt true to the letter.

NEW DAILY PROJECTED.—Mr. F. K. Krauth, publisher of the Alameda Encinal, announces his intention of commencing at an early date the publication of the Daily Alameda Encinal. Mr. K. does well whatever he undertakes, and we wish him all success in the publication of his daily.

J. Madison Wells.

This is the name of the President of the Louisiana Returning Board, which is nothing more nor less than a Radical machine for defeating the will of the voters of the State and possibly of the United States, and for keeping Republicans in office whether the voters desire it or not. Wells' character is pretty generally understood, but in view of his present prominence it will be well to mention again a few of his characteristics. General Sheridan in 1867 denounced him as a thief and political trickster who skulked from duty and whose conduct was "as sinuous as the mark left in the dust by the movement of a snake," and removed him from office. He has killed three men; went thorough bankruptcy three times, coming out winner each time. Two Congressional Committees denounced his Returning Board in 1874 as a fraud. Littlefield, a clerk of his own appointment swears that Wells instructed him to alter the returns of the late election so as to count the State for Hayes when it belonged overwhelmingly to Tilden. Maddox, a Federal office-holder, swears that Wells authorized him to sell the vote of the State for the highest price, and a prominent New Orleans banker says he offered the State for Tilden for $200,000 and was refused. Morrissey says he sent three different men to him to bargain the vote of the State for Tilden. Democratic and Republican friends, don't be horrified,—this same man Wells is to-day defended and upheld and believed in by the Republican schemers at Washington, and by the Republican press with few exceptions, and—we are sorry to have to record it, but it is the truth—by some individuals in this community.

Rambling County Correspondence.

CACHEVILLE, Feb. 12th 1877.

CAPAY AND VICINITY.

EDITOR DEMOCRAT:—Last week your correspondent took a trip to the classic regions of Capay and Cottonwood, and thinking that a few notes of passing observation may not prove uninteresting to your readers, I hasten to give them.

The whole country, that vicinity especially, presented a scene of activity, as everybody was anxious to finish seeding as soon as possible. The early sown grain is in a most healthy condition, and the prospects for a good crop are exceedingly flattering. The area under cultivation may not be as large perhaps as in some other years, owing to the unfavorable prospects previous to the late rains, but the yield to the acre promises to be greater. Give us a few spring showers and Yolo may exult.

MADISON AND THE RAILROAD.

The people in that region are in high spirits over the railroad question. They bespeak for Madison a brilliant future, but think that its growth will be slow, constant and permanent. At any rate it will not rise a la Winters, "in a night," to subside in a short time. Cottonwood will be removed to the site immediately, and a portion of Langville, in all probability, will follow in quick succession. Langville, it is true, is a good business town at present, but it cannot compete with the future Madison and its commercial facilities.

LANGVILLE.

Langville is a lively little town possessing two well regulated stores, one hotel, two saloons, one blacksmith shop, two shoe shops, a livery stable and other adjuncts in common with a thriving little burg. In the way of societies we may mention a Lodge of I. O. G. T., Odd Fellows and Patrons of Husbandry, all of which are in a flourishing condition. The I. O. O. F. it is said will remove to Madison, and most likely the other orders will do likewise soon after the advent of the railroad.

CACHEVILLE ITEMS.

Though business has not revived to any great extent, yet it has improved somewhat since the rains, and improvements have been the order of the day. Our farmers are active in finishing seeding, as the time allotted in which to do it is short. I notice that an unusual interest has been taken this year in planting trees, both fruit and ornamental.

It is rumored that real estate transfers are about to take place, which if consumated, will be gladly hailed by many.

There is and has been for some time a society organized in Cacheville known as the Periolical Bussing Bee. It affords considerable innocent amusement for the little ones.

There is a movement on foot for a resurvey of Cacheville. Everybody wants to know whose lot he is improving.

The Chinese new year commenced last Sunday and as usual they have been quite persistent in their endeavors to frighten away the imaginary devil—imaginary because the spirit never leaves them.

The saloon of Aug. Rose was seized upon one day last week and all the available property confiscated. That was not much however.

Our parson delivered a sermon last Sunday for the especial benefit of the "rising generation." The meeting was well attended, and the divine made many points worthy the careful attention of the class to which the discourse was directed. CYRIL.

STREET CARS.—Santa Rosa is soon to have street cars. Why should not Woodland? Here is a chance to invest capital profitably. There is not a town in the State where a horse railroad could be more easily constructed, and we presume a horse-car line on Main street would pay.

PROFITABLE TRIP.—The Bee says ex-Senator Cole has returned from Washington, where he has secured for clients in "Alabama Claims" some $300,000, and adds that he will receive 25, 33 and in some cases 50 per cent. commission, as fees.

Card to the Public.

On account of the ill health of my wife, I shall be absent from Woodland a part of the time for the next three months. I have not sold out my interest in the Dental office, nor do I intend so to do; but sickness makes it impossible for me to be in the office only a portion of the time as above stated. During my absence the business of the office will be conducted by my partner, Dr. Holmes, who is in every respect competent, having had a large experience and a thorough College education in the profession of Dentistry.

Thanking the public for past patronage, we still hope to merit a continuance of the same, by doing nothing but first-class work at reasonable prices.

For 30 Days

From date I will sell for Cash my

Entire Stock of Men's and Boys' Clothing

AT COST.

This is no myth or fabulous assertion, but a bona fide fact. My stock is too large and must be reduced, therefore I take this mode, preferring my own customers to receive the benefit of the sacrifice, rather than Auction houses at San Francisco, as is too often the plan adopted by merchants to reduce their stock, and thereby deprive their own townspeople the benefit of the sacrifice. Call at once and examine my goods, and satisfy yourselves that there is one house in Sacramento that does not advertise one thing and practice another. I do not offer my goods at reduced rates because they are damaged or out of style, or to make room for new goods, but simply to reduce my stock. I guarantee every article in good order, or no sale. Those desiring Clothing will find it to their advantage to call immediately as I do not intend to restock and replenish to-morrow, but make a positive reduction during a period of thirty days only. On hand a full and choice stock of

A GOOD NAME vs. GREAT RICHES.

A SERMON TO YOUNG MEN,

PREACHED BY REV. JOS. LANMAN,

Sunday Evening, Feb. 11th, 1877, in the Congregational Church, Woodland.

This is an age of great riches. Estates that were deemed large a hundred years ago seem small now. Within a few months, in the city of New York have died three men, whose fortunes were colossal: either of them could have bought out the storied treasures of the royal Crœsus, and had many millions to spare. Great riches were never so quickly acquired as now. The Bonanza kings of San Francisco have won their crowns within a few years. These financial Sequoia Giganteas of the Stock Exchange not long ago were brambles and briers. The opportunities for gathering riches stimulate the desire. The desire has become a passion; and this passion, particularly in this country, is contagious. The success of one tempts a hundred others to enter the race for the golden prize. So on all sides, the struggle is going on, all the time, as if to get rich were the chief end of man.

To this mad pursuit the Word of God cries a halt. It declares that there is something better than money. It does not deny that money is good, but it affirms that a good name is better, and when the choice must be made between the two, it says take the good name.

This better possession is not mere notoriety. All the newspapers in Christendom can not give it or take it away. It does not belong to him whose strategy has won a battle; nor to him whose opinions have arrested attention; nor to him whose genius has dazzled the world. History has many great names that are not good: names of soldiers like Alexander, of rulers like Nero, of philosophers like Epicurus, of poets like Byron. A good name represents goodness—it has character underneath it—it means true manhood. It includes whatever makes a man virtuous in the Christian as well as in the Roman sense of virtue.

MANHOOD IS INTRINSICALLY VALUABLE.

Some things are good for what they represent; other things are good for themselves. Values are sometimes arbitrary, sometimes actual. A piece of green paper enstamped with the U. S. Treasurer's promise to pay the bearer five dollars is in itself no better than a blank sheet of equal size; but its commercial worth is greater because it will be taken for a certain amount of gold coin in any banking house in the civilized world. So of bonds and mortgages; they are merely certificates of value. You cannot raise a crop of wheat on a mortgage; you cannot eat or drink or wear or sleep under a mortgage. Many kinds of property have value only while existing relations continue. I do not suppose that Woodland has much to fear from the rivalry of a town which exists only on paper, but if Madison were to take the business of Yolo County, the bottom would quickly fall out of real estate here. There is an element of uncertainty in the most real of real estate. But not so with moral worth. This alone is real worth. Good character has value in itself, everywhere and always. A man, in former years, largely engaged in the whale fishery, saw his business ruined by the discovery of illuminating gas and the opening of the oil wells of Pennsylvania; but had all his property been swept away with his business, had he vacated his mansion and moved into a cottage, had he been stripped of all the external respectabilities of his former self, his noble Christian manhood would have remained. Here was property that no adverse turn in business could depress or injure. Only in a superficial sense, do we speak of a man being worth so many thousands. Dollars cannot measure manhood. In the truest and best judgment of his fellow-men, a man's honor, his integrity, his benevolence, constitute his real worth. And so God esteems him, not for the gold, houses and lands he may have, but for what he is.

GOOD CHARACTER IS GREATER POWER THAN WEALTH.

"The Almighty Dollar," as Washington Irving styled it, is a wonderful and versatile instrument. It can build for you a commodious and beautiful dwelling; hang your walls with works of genius; store your book-shelves with the intellectual treasures of the best thinkers; adorn your halls and niches with marble wrought into forms of living beauty. Money is a mighty power in business. It furnishes the basis of trade; builds and runs factories; digs canals and constructs railroads. Wealth may indulge a man in the greatest luxury—that of doing good. The rich man can act the part of the Good Samaritan on a grand scale—building the hospital for the sick, the asylum for the blind, the home for helpless infancy and indigent age. The rich man can be another Socrates, instituting the academy in which youth shall be taught long after he is gone. Or he may turn the stream of his beneficence into missionary channels and become another apostle to the Gentiles. It is a grand thing to have money, when with it is given the desire to do good.

But money alone is a dead thing: dissociated from good character it is powerless for good, and in the hands of wickedness it may become only an evil and a curse. Like the water of a reservoir, wisely employed it is a great blessing, but let loose by the hand of ignorance and folly, it sweeps forth in a tide of destruction and death. Not so with a good name. It does nought but good, and good always. The power of such a name is not dependent upon favoring circumstances; it has an inherent energy; it is first in the whole catalogue of human forces. The riotous multitude became silent when Lamartine in Paris, in 1848, in introducing De La Eure, said: "Listen citizens; it is 60 years of a pure life that is about to address you." History affirms that the deepest impress upon the world was left by men of moral worth. What personal influence in the Jewish state can match that of Moses or Samuel or Elijah? The Apostles were, for the most part, poor and illiterate; but what body of men of equal size has done an equal work? Martin Luther was the son of a poor miner, and Carey, who began the translation of the Bible for the millions of Hindostan, was a shoemaker; but what men of wealth have given such royal gifts to the world? The power of a good man, impelled by a great purpose, is immeasurable.

A GOOD NAME AFFORDS GREATER SATISFACTION THAN MERE WEALTH.

"My life has been a failure," said a man who from being a boy in the poor house, came into possession of eight millions of dollars. In an English Cathedral, on a tablet over the grave of a man who died very rich, is the inscription, chiseled at his own request, "Miserimus," (most miserable.) The whole world could not satisfy a man if it were possible for him to gain it. "He that loveth silver shall not be satisfied with silver, nor he that loveth abundance with increase." On a subject like this, the testimony of experience ought to weigh heavily. Hear then what the richest as well as wisest of men has to say: "I made me great works; I builded me houses; I planted me vineyards; I made me gardens and orchards, and I planted trees in them of all kinds of fruit; I made me pools of water to water therewith the wood that bringeth forth trees; I got me servants and maidens, and had servants born in my house; also, I had great possessions of great and small cattle above all that were in Jerusalem before me; I gathered me also silver and gold and the peculiar treasure of Kings and of the provinces; I got me men-singers and women-singers, and the delights of the sons of men as musical instruments and that of all sorts. So I was great and increased more than all that were before me in Jerusalem; also my wisdom remained with me, and whatsoever mine eyes desired I kept not from them. I withheld not my heart from any joy. Then I looked on the works that my hands had wrought and behold all was vanity and vexation of spirit." But self respect and the confidence and affection of his fellows, arising from his excellence of character, are treasures that a man can always enjoy. A pure life unselfishly spent in the service of God and man, is a thousandfold better possession than gold and houses and lands.

A GOOD NAME A LASTING BLESSING.

A woman, who a few years ago cleaned the floor of the City Hall in New York, came to great wealth, so that she lived in a mansion and rode in her own carriage. Not long ago she applied for her old service with the scrubbing-brush. The quickly acquired wealth had been as quickly lost. Such reverses are not uncommon. Croesus so famous for his riches, was stripped of all and even ate from another's table. "Riches make themselves wings; they fly away as an eagle toward Heaven."

It is one of the chief advantages of good character that it is not in the power of capricious fortune. The fickle goddess cannot pluck away this treasure. This is real estate indeed; it will abide with us in spite of every calamity and reverse; it will, unharmed, survive every misfortune.

Young men, I exhort you to secure a good name by following the word and life of the Perfect Man. This is better capital than coin; better than unprincipled smartness. The merchant or manufacturer, obliged to entrust his interests to an agent, wants a reliable man, firm of purpose, courageous in doing his duty. No real gain is ever made by the sacrifice of manliness. Part with money, surrender position if need be, but never give up the true, the right, the honorable. If from the ruins of business hopes you bear forth an unscorched character, you have saved what is most valuable here and hereafter. May God give us all grace to choose what the Word of God and the experience of men declare to be better than great riches.

Thirteen baptisms occurred on the Wednesday before and more were to follow.

ORDER OF CAUCASIANS.—P. S. Dorney delivered a very interesting lecture on Friday night last on the evils of Mongolian immigration, showing that their now general employment on this coast was a serious injury to working men pecuniarily and morally to the whole community. On Saturday evening a meeting was held of those who felt particularly interested in organizing against the encroachments on their rights by that inferior race, and on Sunday evening a Camp of the Order of Caucasians was established with some twenty of our citizens as charter members. The officers are: Chieftain J. W. Tilly; Chief Councillor, L. G. Stone; Councillors—George Wirth, W. M. Gammill, C. Shuter, J. T. Brady, T. M. Follett, J. L. Cole; Treasurer, J. R. Brierly; Financial Secretary, J. R. E. Selby; Recording Secretary, Eugene Reddin; Corresponding Secretary, John Franklin; Warden, Charles Coulter; Sentinel, J. C. Smith; Constable, E. Follett; M. of O., William Robbins. Success to the Order and its objects.

RUNAWAYS.—The horses attached to J. K. Smith's hearse while attending a funeral at Knights Landing on Saturday last started to run away and Mr. Smith was obliged to run them against a fence. He was thrown from his seat by the concussion and slightly bruised, beyond which the damage was slight. On the same day a horse attached to Steinmetz & Leinberger's butcher wagon, in Woodland, ran away, injuring the driver somewhat and breaking one of the horse's hind legs.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH—Rev. Joseph Lanman, Acting Pastor. Services next Sunday at 11 A.M. and 7 P.M. Subject in the morning: "What Keeps Men Out of Heaven." In the evening, a Praise Meeting. Seats free. All cordially welcomed.

ASSESSMENT NOTICE.—The attention of land owners in Reclamation District No. 108 is called to the assessment notice in this paper.

Vacant Places

In the dental ranks will never occur if you are particular with your teeth, and cleanse them every day with that famous tooth-wash, SOZODONT. From youth to old age it will keep the enamel spotless and unimpaired. The teeth of persons who use SOZODONT have a pearl-like whiteness, and the gums a roseate hue, while the breath is purified, and rendered sweet and fragrant. It is composed of rare antiseptic herbs and is entirely free from the objectionable and injurious ingredients of Tooth Pastes, etc.

IF Congress had employed as much scientific skill in the arrangement of its "Reconstruction Policy" at the close, as the War Department did in the beginning of the war, in arranging for the manufacture of what was called "Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders" for the use of the Cavalry horses, no doubt the Union would have been restored long ago.—Exchange.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS AND OINTMENT.—Scurvey and Diseases of the Skin, Fever, restless sleep, foul stomach, tainted breath, languor, depression of spirits, always attendant on the worst cases of cutaneous eruptions, are speedily and radically removed by these medicines—the ointment cleanses the skin, and the Pills purify the blood, stimulate the liver, and promote digestion. 25 cents per box or pot.

WE noticed in one of our exchanges this week the statement of Dea. John Hodgkins, of South Jefferson, Me., whose son was cured of incipient consumption by the use of "Johnson's Anodyne Liniment." We refer to this at this time as tending to corroborate the statement we made last week in relation to this Liniment as applied to consumption.

THE NATIONAL GOLD MEDAL was awarded to Bradley & Rulofson for the best Photographs in the United States, and the Vienna Medal for the best in the world. 429 Montgomery Street, San Francisco.

CHANGE OF BASE.—Captain Goode of this place sold his trading steamer Neponset a few weeks ago to her previous owner, and has purchased the steamer Empire City, as a trading and freighting boat. The Record-Union of Thursday says of the new boat: "The steamer Empire City was yesterday launched from the marine ways in Washington, thoroughly repaired and nicely painted, and soon afterwards got up steam to test her engines, which were found to be all right. She then came over to the Sacramento side of the river to take on her goods and this morning will start up the river on her first trip as a trading boat." Captain Goode informed us a few days since that he designed running between Princeton above, and Antioch below, making his headquarters at Sacramento. His present boat has four times the capacity of the old one.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT.—S. B. Northcut, of Dixon, well known here as one of the College students, accidentally shot himself on Saturday morning last, the ball entering the breast above the heart, passing through the lung and lodging near the back bone. It is feared the wound will prove fatal. He is a young man much esteemed here. The accident is said to have occurred by the pistol having slipped from under the edge of the pillow to the floor, the concussion causing its discharge.

RESULT OF THE RACES.—The races of last week resulted as follows: The running race between "Daisy Dean," "Creeper" and "Fannie Johnson," was won by "Daisy Dean." The trotting races between "Dashaway," "Rock," "Jeff" and "Fred," and "Kitt," "Nellie" and "Lady," was won by "Dashaway" and "Lady."

A GOOD HOUSE.—We call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of H.B. Burlingame of Sacramento. Mr. B. keeps a fine stock and performs what he promises.

R. R. INSPECTION.—The Railroad Commissioners have been making an official examination of the California Pacific Railroad and its branches during the past week.

CHINESE HOLIDAY.—The heathen Chinese have been celebrating the New Year anniversary during the past week. Fire-crackers have been used in abundance.

COMPLIMENTARY.—We acknowledge the receipt of a complimentary invitation to the grand ball to be given at Winters on the 22d.

ROMAN CATHOLIC SERVICES.—Rev. J. Largan will officiate at Davisville on next Sunday, Feb. 18th, at 10 A.M.

HOW TO CURE THE SMALL-POX.—Edward Hine publishes this in the Liverpool Mercury over his own signature. It ought to be remembered by every individual:

I am willing to risk my reputation as a public man if the worst case of small-pox cannot be effectually cured in three days, simply by cream of tartar. This is the sure and never failing remedy. One ounce cream of tartar dissolved in a pint of boiling water, to be drank when cold, at short intervals. It can be taken at any time and is a preventive as well as a curative. It is known to have cured in a hundred thousand cases without a failure. I have myself restored hundreds by this means. It never leaves a mark, never causes blindness, and always prevents tedious lingering.

Bronchitis.

From John Flagg, Esq., of Bennington, N. H.

"Three years since I was very much reduced with a dreadful cough, which resulted in Bronchitis, affecting me so severely as to render it difficult to speak in an audible voice. To this was added severe night sweats, and I was fearful of going into a decline. After recourse to various remedies, to no purpose, I made use of "Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry," a few bottles of which fully restored me to health. Since that time I have had several severe attacks of cough, but the "Balsam" has always removed them. I always keep it by me, and should not know how to do without it." Sold by all druggists.

Strange, but True.

BYNUM & Co., Agents, Woodland, Cal., and obtain a bottle. If relief is not afforded, money refunded. Two doses will relieve the most severe case. The Sowers.

They are sowing their seed in the daylight fair;
They are sowing their seed in the noonday's glare;
They are sowing their seed in the soft twilight;
They are sowing their seed in the solemn night;
What shall the harvest be?

They are sowing the seed of pleasant thought,
In the Spring's green light they have blithely wrought;
They have brought their fancies from wood and dell,
Where the mosses creep and the flower buds swell.
Rare shall the harvest be.

They are sowing the seed of word and deed,
Which the cold know not, nor the careless heed;
Of the gentle word or the careless deed,
They have blessed the heart in the sorest need;
Sweet will the harvest be.

And some are sowing the seed of pain,
Of late remorse and maddened brain;
And the stars shall fall and the sun shall wane,
Ere they root the weeds from the soil again;
Dark shall the harvest be.

And some are standing with idle hand,
Yet they scatter seed on their native land,
And some are sowing the seed of care,
Which their souls hath borne, and still must bear,
Sad will the harvest be.

They are sowing the seed of nobler deed,
With a sleepless watch and an earnest heed,
With a careless hand over the earth they sow,
And the fields are fruitful where'er they go,
Rich will the harvest be.

Sown in the darkness or sown in the light,
Sown in weakness or sown in might,
Sown in meekness or sown in wrath,
In the broad world-field or the shadowy path—
Sure will the harvest be.

For the first time for many years the New York banks have fully as much gold coin on hand as they have United States legal-tender notes. Centaur Liniments!

One Kind for the Human Family, The other for Horses & Animals.

These Liniments are simply the wonder of the world. Their effects are little less than marvellous.

THE WHITE LINIMENT is for the human family. It will drive Rheumatism, Sciatica and Neuralgia from the system; cures Lumbago, Chilblains, Lock-jaw, Palsy, Itch, and most cutaneous eruptions; it extracts frost from frozen hands and feet, and the poison of bites and stings of venomous reptiles; it subdues swellings, and alleviates pain of every kind. When sprains or bruises occur, it is the most potent remedy ever discovered to heal the injured parts. The Centaur Liniment is used with great efficacy for Sore Throat, TOOTHACHE, CAKED BREASTS, Earache, and Weak Back. The following is but a sample of numerous testimonials:

"INDIANA HOME, JEFF. CO., IND., May 28, 1873.
"I think it my duty to inform you that I have suffered much with swollen feet and chords. A few bottles of Centaur Liniment has done the work for me. I have not been free from these swellings in eight years. Now I am perfectly well. The Liniment ought to be applied warm. BENJAMIN BROWN."

The proof is in the trial. It is reliable, it is handy, it is cheap, and every family should have the White Centaur Liniment.

THE YELLOW CENTAUR LINIMENT is adapted to the tough muscles, cords and flesh of horses and animals. It has performed more wonderful cures, in three years, of Spavin, Strain, Wind-galls, Scratches, Sweeny, and general Lameness, than all other remedies in existence. Read what the great Expressmen say of it:

"NEW YORK, January, 1874.
"Every owner of horses should give the CENTAUR LINIMENT a trial. We consider it the best article ever used in our stables.
"H. MARSH, Sup't Adams Ex. Stables, N.Y.
"E. PULTZ, Sup't U. S. Ex. Stables, N.Y.
"A. S. OLIN, Sup't Nat. Ex. Stables, N.Y."

The best patrons of this Liniment are Farriers and Veterinary Surgeons, who are continually using some Liniment. It heals Galls, Wounds and Poll-evil, removes Swellings, and is worth millions of dollars annually to Farmers, Livery men, Stock-growers, Sheep-raisers, and those having horses or cattle.

What a Farrier cannot do for $20 the Centaur Liniment will do at a trifling cost.

These Liniments are sold by all dealers throughout the country. They are warranted by the proprietors, and a bottle will be given to any Farrier or Physician who desires to test them.

Honey.

PITCHER'S CASTORIA is a complete substitute for Castor Oil, and is as pleasant to take as Honey. It is particularly adapted to Teethins and irritable children. It destroys worms, assimilates the food, regulates the Stomach, and cures Wind Colic. Few remedies are as efficacious for Feverishness, Croup, Worms and Whooping Cough. Castoria is a scientific and purely vegetable preparation, more effective than Castor Oil, and neither gags nor gripes. Prepared by Messrs. J. B. ROSE & Co., 46 Dey Street, New York, from the recipe of Samuel Pitcher, M.D., of Barnstable, Mass. fe1-oc5-jy27-2

The Testimony of the Whole World.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

"I had no appetite; Holloway's Pills gave me a hearty one."
"Your Pills are marvellous."
"I send for another box, and keep them in the house."
"Dr. Holloway has cured my headache that was chronic."
"I gave one of your Pills to my babe for cholera morbus. The dear little thing got well in a day."
"My nausea of a morning is now cured."
"Your box of Holloway's Ointment cured me of noises in the head. I rubbed some of your Ointment behind the ears, and the noise has left."
"Send me five boxes of your Pills."
"Let me have three boxes of your Pills by return mail, for Chills and Fever."
I have over 200 such testimonials as these, but want of space compells me to conclude.

For Cutaneous Disorders,

And all eruptions of the skin, this Ointment is most invaluable. It does not heal externally alone, but penetrates with the most searching effects to the very roots of the evil.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS

Invariably cure the following diseases

Disorder of the Kidneys.

In all diseases affecting these organs, whether they secrete too much or too little water, or whether they be afflicted with stone or gravel or with aches and pains settled in the loins or over regions of the kidneys, these Pills should be taken according to the printed directions, and the Ointment should be well rubbed into the small of the back at bedtime. This treatment will give almost immediate relief when all other means have failed.

For Stomachs Out of Order.

No medicine will so effectually improve the tone of the stomach as these pills; they remove all acidity occasioned either by intemperance or improper diet. They regulate the liver and reduce it to a healthy action; they are wonderfully efficacious in cases of spasm, in fact they never fail in curing all disorders of the liver and stomach.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS are the best known in the world for the following diseases: Ague, Asthma, Bilious Complaints, Blotches on the Skin, Bowels, Consumption, Debility, Dropsy, Dysentery, Erysipelas, Female Irregularities, Fevers of all kinds, Fits, Gout, Headache, Indigestion, Inflammation, Jaundice, Lumbago, Liver Complaints, Piles, Rheumatism, Retention of Urine; Scrofula or King's Evil, Sore Throat, Stone and Gravel, Tiedoloroux, Tumors, Ulcers, Worms of all kinds, Weakness from any cause, etc.

IMPORTANT CAUTION.

None are genuine unless the signature of J. HAYDOCK, as agent for the United States, surrounds each box of Pills and Ointment. A handsome reward will be given to anyone rendering such information as may lead to the detection of any party or parties counterfeiting the medicines or vending the same, knowing them to be spurious.

☞ Sold at the manufactory of Prof. HOLLOWAY & Co., New York, and by all respectable druggists and dealers in medicine throughout the civilized world, in boxes at 25 cents, 62 cents and $1 each.

☞ There is considerable saving by taking the larger sizes.

N. B. Directions for the guidance of patients in every disorder are affixed to each box.

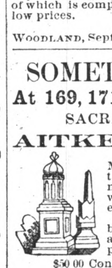
SOMETHING NEW

At 169, 171 and 177 K Street,

SACRAMENTO CAL.

AITKEN & LUCE



Make the following proposition to those who wish Monuments or Headstones, and who come to the City for the express purpose of selecting. We will pay the R.R. fare both ways when the distance and amount of purchase compare with the following table:

$50 00	Contract—	30	miles or less.
$75.00	"	40	" "
$100.00	"	50	" "
$240.00	"	75	" "
$500.00	"	150	" "
$1,000.00	"	300	" "

Thus giving purchasers the opportunity of making their selections, instead of dealing with inexperienced canvassers.

Cut this out and bring it with you, and after you have made your purchase, present it, and we will give you credit for your R. R. fare both ways.

We wish it distinctly understood that we work any kind of marble desired, and as low as the lowest.
